Music, Nursing School Planned By Trustees

Mr. P. C. Pinkerton, president of the board of trustees of Tyler Junior College, announced that at a meeting Monday, that the board took steps toward the organization and development of two new divisional schools in the framework of TJC.

The Board of Trustees ordered the final organization of a School of Music which will be known as the Texas Eastern School of Music of Tyler Junior College.

Already a faculty of internationally known artist instructors has been employed for 1951-52.

The director of the Texas Eastern School of Music of Tyler Junior College is Joseph Kirshbaum, widely acclaimed as a director and instructor in violin. His wife, Mrs. Gertrude Kirshbaum, will give private lessons in harp.

Hilda Ohlin, knighted by the French Government for her work in vocal music, is the instructor in voice.

Oscar Ziegler of New York City, internationally known pianist and piano instructor, will arrive in September to instruct piano. Mrs. Jesse Trulove is also an instructor of piano.

The Board of Trustees also directed that immediate steps be taken to organize, if possible, the Texas Eastern School of Nursing of Tyler Junior College, in order that proper arrangements be completed to establish a training course of thirty-six months to train registered nurses. Robert Boyd, director of Vocational Education, has been commisisoned by President H. E. Jenkins to proceed with the organization of the Texas Eastern School of Nursing of Tyler Junior College, which school already has a twelve month course in the training of practical nurses.

If it is possible to add the thirty-six month training course for registered nurses, it is felt that a public service will be rendered to Tyler and this area and a step will be taken making Tyler a medical center.

The Texas Eastern School of Nursing of Tyler Junior College is negotiating with the new county hospital and Mother Frances Hospital as cooperating institutions whose facilities and services can be utilized in the program.

According to instructions given to the faculy by Mrs. Mary Wallace, chairman of the faculty social committee, the lake may be reached by going west on the Chandler Highway, turning left at Sam R. Hill's lake, going three miles farther and then down a hill past Dean's Church.

Summer School Registration Scheduled To Begin June 2

Grads Given Instructions

Mrs. Frances Flaherty, registrar, has recently issued last minute instructions to the candidates for graduation.

All candidates should come by the registrar's office and pay the $2.50 cap and gown fee and the $2.50 diploma fee, if they have not already done so.

Students are urged to watch the bulletin board for instructions about where and when to pick up their caps and gowns. Thursday morning at 10:20 a.m., there will be a commencement rehearsal at Gentry Gym.

The baccalaureate sermon will be in the Tyler High School auditorium on South College Street at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 25, 1951. Each candidate for graduation is expected to be at the auditorium not later than 6:45 that evening in order that lines may properly be arranged.

All candidates who wish to receive their degrees in absentia and have not already arranged with Dean Potter to excuse them from taking part in the exercises, you must do this if you wish to receive your diploma. Those who graduate in absentia must pay the diploma fee of $2.50 before the degree will be granted.

If it is necessary for a candidate to transfer any work to Tyler Junior College to complete his requirements for graduation, please arrange to have your transcript sent as soon as possible.

Even though the regular session of school is not quite over, some industrious people are already thinking of attending Summer School. For those of you who have just that in mind here are a few facts about Summer School 1951 in Tyler Junior College.

For those who want no rest from their books there are classes beginning June 6. Registration for these classes is June 2, 4 and 5. Classes last for six weeks with the term ending on July 18, 1951. The second six weeks term begins July 20, with registration July 19, 20. August 31 is the date it ends. Those students who have been attending some other college which does not dismiss its Spring term by June 6th will be permitted to enroll late (after classes have started) and will be given necessary personal assistance.

There is not a definite curriculum set up for the summer term is an independent self-supporting session and only those classes will be taught in which twelve or more students enroll.

Full credit may be earned in summer sessions because the courses are conducted in the same manner and under the same conditions as the regular session. These credits are accepted at full value anywhere because TJC is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges.

Students may enroll for one subject (three semester hours) or for two subjects (six semester hours) in each of the two sessions. Thus is it possible for one to complete three, six, nine or twelve hours as desired, provided the required subjects are given.

The fees are as follows: For one subject—$30; for two subjects—$60; and a diploma fee for students who graduate—$2.50.

The veterans of World War II may enroll in the summer session and receive subsistence as well as have all other college expenses paid by the Federal Government.

If the required number of students enroll, the following is a list of those courses which will be given: English, government, history, mathematics, economics, typewriting, shorthand, accounting, foreign language, public speaking, teacher training (education), machine shop, welding, and woodwork.

Hayride Reveals New T-K Officers

To-Kalon members and dates enjoyed a hay-ride given Friday, May 4. Approximately 50 persons attended the hay ride which ended at Lake Tyler, the site of a wiener roast. At the picnic officers for the coming year were announced. They are Opal Mitchum, president; Ann Rowden, vice-president; Venita Krause, secretary; Rosie Cade, reporter, and Sue Hawk, pledge mistress. The remaining officers will be elected next year.

At the completion of the pledge period this semester a banquet was held. At the banquet best pledges were revealed. These girls are Betty King and Venita Krause. Before the banquet, the formal initiation was performed.

TJC Swing Band Performs At Many School Events, Others

There is one organization on the T. J. C. Campus that doesn't get much publicity. This is our one and only Swing Band.

The T. J. C. Swing Band, directed by Mr. Eddie Fowler, was organized two years ago. This year its members are Earl Thornton and Judson Cox of Van; Phil Point of Hawkins; Jane and Jean Broadfoot of Jacksonville; Gene Knowles of Gilmer; Edward Thwaites of Mt. Selman; Jimmy Hicks, Charles Langford, Fontaine Zipf, Patsy Davis and Buzzie Gill of Tyler.

The Swing Band plays for numerous school activities and it also accepts engagements for other appearances. They are very much in demand; in fact, they had to turn down a number of engagements this semester. Being a very important part of our recent Variety Show, they also traveled to Quitman to repeat the performance. Additional appearances of recen weeks have been the Jacksonville Senior Prom, the Junior High Dance at the American Legion Hall, the big San Souci Mexican Fiesta in the Teepee, and the Arp Senior Prom and Banquet. You see they have been rather busy the last few weeks which proves that they are steadily becoming popular.

Swinging it for the dancers is the TJC Swing Band. Organized under Mr. Fowler, they have made a big hit in East Texas and really keep busy playing for so many dances.

From The Student Council

By JERRY "HAPPY" HILL

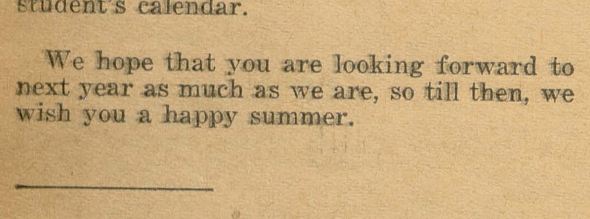
We, the newly elected officers of the student council, wish to thank the student body for giving us the honor of representing them next year as their leaders. Ann Rowden, Donald Joe Peters, and I will try in every way to fulfill your vote of confidence.

Next year we hope to enlarge the student council. This plan is being considered because a larger council will give the student body better representation. Also, with a larger membership the Council can give more attention to matters that concern the students. Our plan is to have two representatives, one boy and one girl, from each class besides the class officers.

The election of cheerleaders next year shall consist of three boys and three girls. We feel that adding girls will help our school spirit immensely.

Dances and parties have always been a problem at TJC. A great percentage of the dances have been attended by a very few students. If one-half of the student body would come to a dance, it would really be unusual. This is a sad situation. An all school dance should have all the students. Why, then, are the TJC dances usually flops? The answer probably is that other activities such as picture shows are more appealing than the dances. The dances must be made more interesting. Next year the program committee under Donald Joe will do everything possible to make each dance and party a must in the student's calendar.

We hope that you are looking forward to next year as much as we are, so till then, we wish you a happy summer.



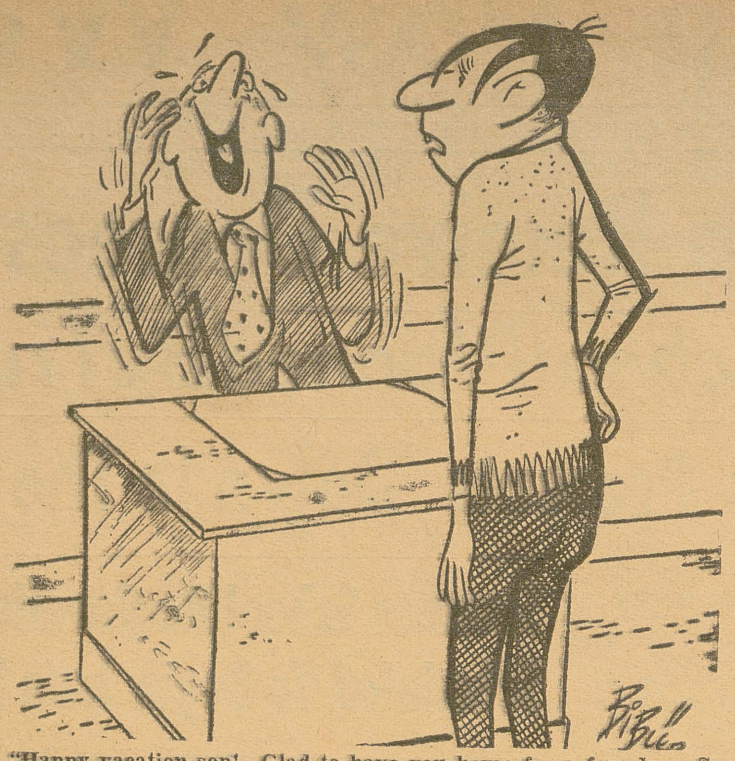
By ANN LYNN SADLER

One of the most active students on the campus is Harlan Hall from Lindale. Harlan is interested in almost anything which is worthwhile. Two of his pastimes are singing and dramatics.

He had the lead in "Down In the Valley" which was put on Tuesday and Wednesday nights by the Choral Club. Last year he sang in the "Pirates of Penzance." He has appeared in many dramatic productions. In his Senior year at Lindale High School he had the lead in "Pride and Prejudice."

Harlan hopes to finish TJC this June like a lot of others. He plans to enter Baylor next semester. His major is Religious Education. He wants to work in the music religion field after his completion of his college work. He is now director of the Lindale Baptist Church choir.

Harlan says that TJC has been lots of fun these two years and he hates to leave. All who know Harlan hope his years to come will be as happy and successful for him as these past two years at TJC.



"Happy vacation son! Glad to have you home for a few days. Say, mind slipping into these overalls—just happens we're laying tile floor and paintin' 'round here this week."

Memories, Plans

Today marks the beginning of the closing period of one of the best years in TJC's history.

With the beginning of dead week comes the end of all the activities that have meant much to the student body since last September.

After that will be exams, followed by graduation for most of the Sophomores, and then . . . memories.

Most of those memories of 1950-51 will be pleasant ones.

Much progress has been made in the field of student activities, even though much still remains for next year's classes to do. Student Council President Dwight Ewing deserves much credit for the outstanding work he has attempted to do. In some cases he has failed to get the cooperation from all the students and faculty members that are extremely vital to the success of such endeavors. Nevertheless, a great many events have taken place that were outstanding successes and that will remain long in the memories of the students in future years.

Perhaps it would be well for us to look back at some of those events as the year draws to a close as well as to look forward to next year, planning so that those of us who will return next year can make it even more outstanding.

First, let's look at the highlights of this year.

The outstanding feature of the fall is, of course, the football games. If there is anyone who attended that game in Kilgore who will not remember it until his dying hour, it might be desirable for him to visit a psychiatrist. There were many other outstanding events last fall. Probably the most memorable social event was the all-school get together that was held in the gym with dancing and other activities. The trip to the State Fair was for many another occurrence that will be remembered. Even more the Band and Belles will recall their New Orleans jaunt.

Taking the sports spotlight for the remainder of the year are our National Champions in basketball. For the first time the regional tournament was held in Tyler, thus permitting many students to see it who would never have had the opportunity otherwise. And by radio or, for a lucky few, actual presence, the National Tournament in Hutchinson will be a highlight not only of this year but of an entire lifetime.

The Phi Theta Kappas' national convention trip was another memorable occasion to those who attended. A recent unusually enjoyable activity was the Sans Souci formal dance week before last.

Now for next year's plans. Jerry Paul Hill and his coworkers might strive to work out some of the following suggestions that have been made by several members of the student body and faculty recently:

1. Expansion of Homecoming and Spring Round-Up activities.

2. More participation by all the students in recreational and sports activities. This might include, among other things using the tennis courts more frequently, more emphasis on the golf class, tournaments in bridge, canasta, ping-pong, forty-two, etc. on certain days in the Teepee.

3. A card section at home football games. This has been proved feasible this year and should be put into action next year.

4. Pep rallies for basketball as well as football, coupled with more student attendance at basketball games.

5. More all-school parties, dances, etc., with active participation by all sororities, the fraternity, and every individual student and faculty member.

6. The schedule should perhaps be altered—as is being considered by the administrators—to allow more time for club meetings and similar activities without their conflicting with make-up tests, chorus meetings, and the like.

7. By far the most important element that will work toward making next year even better than this year (and thus the best in the school's history) will be CO-OPERATION among everyone concerned in any way with the activities with a genuine school spirit and a desire to make it better in every way.

With these plans in mind we look back at one of the most enjoyable years of our college careers and hope that those who follow will be able to continue the forward progress that has already begun.—H. J.

"Brush your teeth with Colgate," Billie Norton does. One night she was spending the night with Betty Presley and brushed her teeth with Colgate—Colgate shaving cream.

Have you noticed the ruins of the Peoples National Bank Building? The other day while making a deposit (lucky girl) Mary Love Hayley ran into the building. Caused a good deal of damage to her car too.

Marjie Truitt has a terrific crush on———. She will not tell this columnist who it is but yours truly thinks he may play baseball.

Many Tyler people came to Fort Worth to see the rodeo. It seemed to the Apache Belles that they were all that were there. There were not many people at the rodeo each night—mostly relatives or boy friends.

We are proud to acknowledge our new students council officers. Jerry Hill, Ann Rowden, and Donald Peters. But, our deep appreciation goes to Dwight Ewing, Carol Inabnet, and Carolyn Barron for all they have done for us.

Good old finals are beginning soon—very soon, so let's all settle down and get to work and wind up this year so that we can remember it as one of our very best.

"Sugar Lump" has finally left us. We don't know how Tommy Robinson acquired that nickname but we do know that he is now in the Airforce and stationed at Lackland.

About umpteen months ago when we had a Pow-Wow, we neglected to mention Dumbo Dennis' name as one of the Tyler boys now going to school in Florida. But before long he won't be going to school there as he plans to return and attend summer school at TJC.

So long friends!

Pitt's School Of Retailing To Begin Next Class July 2

The University of Pittsburgh's graduate school of retailing, the Research Bureau for Retail Training, will begin its next class July 2, 1951 and graduate that class on March 21, 1952. It is hoped that this acceleration will make it possible for a number of men subject to military call to complete a year of graduate study prior to entering military service.

The bureau's one-year graduate course leads to a master's degree and prepares young men and women to step into responsible executive positions in such retail fields as buying, management, control, advertising, fashion, and personnel. Classes are combined with paid store work and students are usually placed before graduation.

Prevent Polio By Do's Don'ts

ch year when Polio strikes it takes a er and higher toll. This year to revent the spread of Polio let's these pointers which have been ibuted by the National Foundation Infantile Paralysis. These pointers carefully checked by the founda- medical department and includes test known factual data about the

The ales can be tipped in favor the virus by over-exertion. recent study revealed that eavy exertion in the early ages of the disease resulted more severe and extensive aralysis.

N'T—get chilled. Don't bathe swim long in cold water or around in wet clothes. Be- ause—Research has indicated hat chilling and physical ex- rtion seem to lower body re- istance to the virus, once it as entered your body.

NT—have mouth or throat perations during a polio out- reak. Because—Recent sur- eys have demonstrated that nsillectomies performed at his time increase the risk of getting bulbar polio (most se- rious form)—by 11 times.

DON'T—use another person's towels, dishes, tableware or the like. Because — Virus is excreted from the bowel and throat and may be transferred unknowingly by these imple- ments.

DON'T—take children to places where there is polio; ask your health department for advice. Because — Moving the child would needlessly expose him to the polio virus.

DON'T—take your child out of camp or playground, where there is good health supervi- sion. Because — He already has been exposed to the virus by the time a case has been reported. Routine daily living under proper supervision, such as good camps and play- grounds offer, is a safeguard to his health.

DO—Allow children to play with friends they have been with right along. Keep them away from new people, especially in the close daily living of a home. Because — Once polio has appeared in a community, scientists say the virus prob- ably is widespread. Your chil- dren probably hav- come in contact with it already and de- veloped a degree of resistance to that particular virus.

DO—Wash hands carefully be- fore eating and always after using the toilet—especially im- portant when polio is around. Also, keep food clean and cov- ered. Because — Hands may carry polio infection into the body through the mouth. Scientists have determined that large amounts of virus are excreted from the bowel and throat of a patient as well as a healthy carrier during seasonal outbreaks.

DO—Watch for signs of sickness, such as headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme tiredness or nervous- ness, trouble in breathing or swallowing. Because— During an outbreak of polio, symp- toms vary from the very vague to actual paralysis. Watch for all symptoms closely during this period.

DO—Put a sick person to bed at once, away from others, and call the doctor. Quick action may lessen crippling. Because —While paralysis cannot be prevented, doctors have deter- mined that early bedrest and prompt treatment may influ- ence progress of the disease and lessen the severity of de- formities.

DO—Telephone your local Chap- ter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, if you need help. Locate through telephone book or health de- partment. No patient need go without care for lack of mon- ey. Your Chapter will pay what you cannot afford. Be- cause—The 2800 local Chap- ters of the National Foundation, supported by your con- tributions to the March of Dimes, exist for this purpose. Other March of Dimes funds are spent for scientific re- search and the training of much-needed professional per- sonnel.

DO—Remember, at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling. Be- cause — Recent surveys show that 50 per cent of all diag- nosed polio cases suffer no paralysis at all. Another 25 per cent recover with no dis- abling after-effects. Fifteen per cent are severly paralyzed and about eight per cent die.

The award winners were given billfolds and their names engraved on them by the club. In addition a representative will be present at the graduation exercises to present a certificate to them.

Dean E. M. Potter went with the TJC Young Citizens to the meeting.

In a college town a student call- ed at a house to inquire about a room.

"And what do you charge?" he asked.

"Five dollars up," was the reply.

"But I'm a student," he said thinking of the high price.

"That being the case," replied the landlady, "the price is $5 down."

New Deadline For Selective Service Test Applications Is Set, May 25

The deadline for the receipt of applications for the Selective Service college qualification test has been extended to May 25, it was announced early this week.

Originally set for May 15, the date was extended by the Selective Service Educational Examining Section in Princeton, New Jersey, to enable more students to take the test at the two dates set for the month of June. The Selective Service officials have already ceased assigning applicants to the May 26 examination.

Students who desire to take the test must secure applications from the office or from their draft boards, fill in all blanks, and mail them at once to the processing center.

Tests will be given at the TJC library, which has been designated as official testing station number 1076, at 8:30 a.m. on June 16 and June 30 as well as May 26. Students who send in their applications now will be assigned to one or the other of the two later dates. Many have already received their cards assigning them to the May 26 date.

To be eligible to take the test an applicant must (1) be a registrant under the Selective Service Act who intends to request an occupational deferment as a student; (2) to be under 26 years old at the time of taking the test; (3) be satisfactory pursuing a full-time college course leading to a degree. (This would apply not only in accredited junior colleges like TJC but also in four-year colleges granting degrees). (4) not previously have taken the test.

When reporting for the test it is essential that the applicant bring an official document showing his selective service number and the exact designation, number and address of the Selective Service Local Board under whose jurisdiction he is. Those who are to take it next week should consult their draft boards immediately and obtain such a document.

According to the bulletin prepared for the use of students interested in taking the examination, charts, and graphs as well as his ability to apply the principles of knowledge involved and other questions to test his knowledge and understandings of the meanings of words and some to test his mathematical abilities.
